

Classes at Moonlite Creations Studio & Gallery

101 W 6th Street at Steinfeld Community Arts Warehouse, Studio N

Metal Clay- Classes are arranged so you learn about metal clay but the product you create is up to you. Novices to advance techniques are learned, gathering a knowledge in which you can build on at your own pace. Tools and material are a separate cost. Payment for class guarantees your seat. We accept check, cash or charge. Firing is included in class fee and done off premise, there is no limit on number of items as long you are attending class.

Wednesday ~ Silver Clays-Days ~ 1pm to 4pm or Eve- 6pm to 9pm

Thursdays ~ Copper, Bronze, Brass - Days ~ 1pm to 4pm or Eve- 6pm to 9pm

(Base Metals) Bronze Clay, Fast Fire Bronze, Copper Clay, White Copper Clay, Brass clay

Classes-The classes are structure for you to learn at your own pace and not product driven so the classes are flexible for everyone's busy schedules. Classes are structured by the types of metal on a particular day. Your attendance is flexible- You are entitled to six -3 hour sessions for a fee of $140. How you do that is up to you. Attend a class session every week or miss a few weeks and return when you can or do both silver and base metals on their given day. You begin when you want and end after completing 6 sessions. Attending more than one -six / 3hour sessions is up to you and your progression in using metal clay. Changing from a fixed weekly schedule in which most classes are given, this class structure enables flexibility for students to attend classes when they are able to and helps eliminate scheduling conflicts.

Intro Workshop- The last Saturday of each month from 1pm to 4pm there is an intro class for artist to come and try copper, bronze or silver clay. This intro class gives the student the opportunity to experience metal clay. You receive the product of choice and use of tools in this workshop so you can experience basic methods using metal clay.
